

Do you have a good example of a person, or a situation, that shows how you can be a good person?